

clever – creative – sustainable – relevant

Solutions for Automation Systems

Utz is your partner for automation solutions

We specialize in the development of individual custom solutions that combine the packaging requirements with the integration of automated manufacturing. Our variety of manufacturing processes and flexible tooling construction allow us to optimize container and tray designs to best suit your project requirements.

System Specific Containers

We design and develop system specific solutions with various heights, features and configurations to meet a wide range of customer needs.

Examples

